

Prophetess Kenya Johnson

Kenya Johnson comes from a long lineage of praying and prophetic women. These women include her grandmothers Rosalie Hogan & Maria Vasser, and her mother Prophetess Joyce Hogan. At a very early age Kenya Johnson experienced encounters with God. At the age of five she was witnessed by her parents speaking in tongues and crying out to God. As she got older her experiences and encounters continued even to the level of dreams and visions. She possesses a strong mantle for intercession, prayer and prophecy. She is also a seer. On various occasions she has seen visions and dreamt dreams that have had significant meaning to the local ministry and the Body of Christ.

On Sunday, January 6, 2013 she was ordained as a prophetess by Apostle Kenneth D. Hogan at Living Bread Ministries during a spontaneous move of the Holy Spirit. As a prophet she known for the accuracy of her prophetic words and specific details they include.

Kenya Johnson also is a certified Life Coach and is the CEO of the Total Makeover where her motto is: "Activating and Building the Woman on You". She is passionate about her ministry to women. She has a fervent heart to see women who have suffered physical affliction receive physical healing, women emotionally broken be made whole emotionally and women spiritually weak to walk empowered spiritually.

Kenya possesses a passion for writing. She has authored an autobiography entitled: "On the Way to My Destiny" and many other books on relationships & self-esteem building.

Kenya Johnson is also a licensed real estate agent and has earned two certifications in property management.

Kenya Johnson is the oldest child and only daughter to Apostle Kenneth and Prophetess Joyce Hogan. She has been married for 21 years to Elder Brian Johnson. They have 3 children, Brian Johnson II, Brandon Johnson, and Jocelyn Johnson
